

SHAUN WAINSTEIN

UK Head of Global Equities &
Commodity Derivatives (GECD)

Shaun Wainstein graduated with a PhD in Physics at Imperial College London, carrying out particle physics research at CERN. Shaun joined BNP Paribas in 1993, working initially as a quantitative analyst on risk calculation methodology and was promoted to Head of Risk Methods in 1995. In 1997 Shaun moved to Equity Derivatives Trading, working on the European index exotics books until 2000. He was promoted to Head of Structuring EQD London in 2001, and appointed head of the EQD London platform in February 2006. In 2010, he was given the additional responsibility of managing the smaller GECD platforms across Europe (Brussels, Milan, Geneva, Frankfurt, and Luxembourg). In 2011 he was appointed UK Head of GECD, extending his oversight to Commodity Derivatives in addition to equity derivatives.
