

JOHN SLADE

UK CEO of BNP Paribas Real Estate

John Slade joined BNP Paribas to head up the UK Real Estate business in June 2012. Prior to BNP Paribas, John ran his own company, Accrue Capital. He was previously joint Chairman of Capital Markets and Managing Director of International Investment at DTZ and Executive Head of CB Richard Ellis City.

He has a strong personal track record of deals including a €300 million joint venture between Scottish Widows and Teachers of New York for three major London buildings, one now redeveloped and occupied by BNP Paribas at 5 Aldermanbury Square; substantial purchases for Asian and German clients including Goldman Sachs HQ in Fleet Street and the Lloyds Building; and leading European transactions involving portfolios in Germany and France (of over €3 billion between 2005 and 2007). He also advised on landmark buildings including Stadttor in Dusseldorf and White Square in Moscow.

